

Gokhale Education Society's

JDC Bytco Institute of Management Studies & Research, Nashik-5

To ensure continuous improvement, the Institute collects feedback from various stake holders on various occasions. These stakeholders include teachers, students, alumni, guest lecturers, parents and employers.

a. Teachers:

- Teacher's feedback is collected regarding syllabus, teaching methodologies to be adopted, conduct of curricular and extra-curricular activities etc.
- Every month a faculty meeting is conducted where all the teachers share their feedback on the above mentioned points with the Director.
- Action is taken, if required, based on this discussion.

b. Alumni:

- Institute has a strong alumni base who keep visiting the Institute, both, physical as well as virtually.
- Alumni are invited as expert speakers during which the formal/informal feedback is collected from them on parameters like institute ambiance/infrastructure, syllabus, placements etc.
- Alumni are also the part of College Development Committee, Governing Council & Research committee and provide their views on working of the Institute through these platforms.

c. Guest lecturers/Resource Persons:

- Many experts from industry/ other Institutes etc are invited to the Institute for guest sessions/ seminars/Conferences etc
- Informal feedback is collected during the discussion with them and their suggestions are incorporated in day to day working.

d. Parents:

- Every semester, a parent meeting is conducted where faculty members and parents come on a common platform to discuss about students' development.
- Parents' suggestions regarding curriculum, evaluation, skill development, placements etc are recorded and suggestions are implemented as and when required.

e. Employer:

- Structured feedback is shared with the employers to check the performance of the students.
- The feedback/Suggestions from the employers are shared with the students to improve their skill level and overall performance.
- Employer's feedback on syllabus is also collected informally.
